A beautiful person, a loving sister, a wonderful friend

A Time to Mourn...

In life, there is a season for every occasion. Ecclesiastes Chapter 3, verse 4 says there is a time to weep, a time to laugh, a time to mourn, and a time to dance. Now is Tau Eta Zeta's time to mourn. We have lost our "Black Beauty," Soror Sharon K. Harvey. She was a Zeta inside and out. Whether she was at step practice or a ball, she represented Zeta in the highest ideal of Finer Womanhood.

Let us mourn her death but continue the work she did by reaching out to be a friend to man. Soror Harvey was a "SUPER" Zeta. Her dedication and commitment is an example of the commitment that each of us should have.

As we continue to mourn the loss of Soror Harvey, let us live as she did and "be a friend to man."

Sisterly,
Soror Tamara Harris
Tau Eta Zeta Basileus

Who would have thought you would become a part of the "crew"?

Because we all know that it is something hard to do.

At your very first outing, you brought an uninvited guest
And you better believe you caught "hell" for that!

You didn't get mad and you didn't get upset,
You just learned a lesson that you'll never forget.

From that day forth, we all became good friends
And that's when all the memories began.

There were plenty of step practices and shows we were in
There were late night dinners at Friday's, Outback and Bennigan's.

The trip to College Park—the shopping at Wal-mart
Those are the things that are dear to my heart.

One recent event I'll never forget was karaoke night in my basement
You brought generic Doritos and salsa dip.

We joked you because those two just don't mix!

We sang "Lady Marmalade"—you, Helen and I
Don't even ask me why we gave that a try

Because we didn't know the words and we sang off-key.

But boy, didn't we have fun—wasn't that how it was supposed to be?

Black Beauty, you were a soror with heart and soul,

You were a great teacher who had a goal.

Gone, but not forgotten is what I say,

Now may you rest in peace and I'll look forward to the day

When we meet again in the Heavenly blue skies.

A friendship like ours NEVER dies!

Why Doves Cry

The time we shared together was brief.
Seven years of friendship have now turned to grief.

Time heals all wounds, now this we know is true,
But we will never stop thinking of you.

Black Beauty, you were such a gem
With class, style and grace, you floored them!

When you walked in the room, your smile lit up
the place
Things just won't be the same without your beautiful face.

We had so much fun hanging out with you.
Dawn, Helen, Lisa, hmmm, well you know the crew.

It seemed that time flew past before our eyes.
The images of you we've all memorized.

The crew misses you so much and that's no lie.
Now, we all understand why doves cry.
